

Monday, 06/29/09 – 12:54 AM

After a 22 hr. day it is time to go to bed. We still have 3 team members who aren't feeling well, but they are improving. We are not sure if it is the flu or something to do with the altitude. Ministry at the church was fun, but they still are blown away by our team and how they worked together. One of the girls on the team may have come to know Christ today! We will follow up and hear more tomorrow.

God has given us an amazing team! When everything was about to fall apart each member stepped up and really helped hold it together. Thank you, Mary Lee, for running our infirmary. Thank you, Jeff, for holding the team together while I (PR) had Jenny and Jewel at the hospital. Thank you, Jewel, for staying next to Jenny all night while she was sick. Thank you, church family, for your prayers and for the help you provided the Hairs in Jeff's absence.