

Why should anyone believe in God? It's not a silly or irrelevant question.

In the beginning . . . what?

Options: they're actually quite limited

1. The world _____ .

2. The world _____ .

No final, absolutely compelling answer is

_____.

What clues do we have?

There are several indicators:

_____
_____
_____
_____

"Why Anything?"

March 8, 2009

Evidence of design:

In the _____

In _____

What we learn of the _____

_____

_____

_____

Christian faith does not _____ with

_____;

but it _____ the _____ of existence better than any of its rivals.