

Dr. Ken Miller

Today's Scripture: Matthew 22:15-22

Jesus was asked a question concerning taxes. While the question was not presented with pure motives, Jesus turned it into an opportunity to teach His followers. What can we learn from it?

There will always be _____ to those who are concerned with _____ to Christ.

We will need _____
_____ in our situation.

We must, like Jesus, _____.

Wise answers point back _____.

We have _____ to our government.
(Rom. 13)

These responsibilities can be symbolized by our
_____. They bear the image of
_____.

The teaching point of Jesus: like coins, we as people bear an
_____. It, too, is a symbol of
_____.

"Competing Obligations"

October 19, 2008

To give to God what belongs to him, we are to present
_____. When we do, those who see, hear, watch, and interact with us will be reminded of _____.

Our task is to allow _____ to reappear in
_____ in and through our lives.

This means we are marked by _____,
_____, and _____; and we are used in the business of _____.