

Dr. Ken Miller

Today's Scripture: Matthew 25:14-30

We've probably heard this parable of Jesus many times before. It speaks to us about using the gifts God has given in a way which pleases Him and results in our greatest happiness. But it hinges on how we think of God in the first place.

It begins with God's _____ _____ of us.

He knows our _____.

He knows our _____.

He knows our _____.

He knows our _____.

"The Tragic Case of Buried Treasure"

November 16, 2008

The three servants are all _____ by the master, as we are by God.

Their responsibilities (and ours) are _____.

Their rewards are _____.

The key difference among the servants is not _____; it is in how well they _____.

The difference is expressed in the words " _____, " rather than I _____.

We can gain a better approach to God's true character through _____ and through _____ His word.

Suggestions: